

BEHOLD THE CANDIDATE

HE EXALTETH THEN KICKETH HIMSELF.

"Behold the candidate! He cometh up like a flower and retireth from the race busted. His friends fill him with false hopes and atmosphere. He swell-eth like a toad and calleth the earth his'n. He smil-eth upon all mankind and sloppeth over with good humor. He kisses the children and scatters his microbes among the innocent babes. He privily cheweth a clove when he meeteth a preacher, and as he converseth with him in pious tones he standeth to leeward and curbeth his breath with a strong bit. He goeth home late at night to his weary wife with a beery breath and cold feet. He riseth up betimes and hiketh forth without his breakfast, saying 'I go to see a man.' The deadbeat who lieth around in wait then pulleth his leg to the queen's taste. He 'naileth a lie,' but to fore election day comes he fume-eth short of mails. He giveth liberally to the church; he subscribeth a goodly sum for the blind; he contrib-uteth to the man whose barn was burned; he bestoweth alms; he sineth his friend's note; he sendeth a small keg hither and a large keg thither; he yieldeth up his substance with appar-ent alacrity. After the election he goeth out back of the barn and kicketh himself and teareth his hair and call-eth himself a Rotterdam fool. He re-turneth to the house and addresseth himself to the wife of his bosom: 'Be-hold a driveling idiot; look now upon a dodrotted fool; gaze upon a doggasted simpleton; cast your eye upon a bea-dle-headed dunce who hath not sense enough to carry entrails to a bear.' Then his wife replieth, 'I told you so,' which causeth him to go forth and drowneth his sorrow in drink."—Quincy Herald.

Whooping Cough.

A woman who has had experience with this disease tells how to prevent any dangerous consequences from it. She says: Our three children took whooping cough last summer, our baby boy being only three months old, and owing to our giving them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, they lost none of their plumpness and came out in much better health than other children whose parents did not use this remedy. Our oldest little girl would call lustily for cough syrup between whoops.—Jessie Pinkey Hall, Springville, Ala. This remedy is for sale by Anti-Monopoly drug store. in

Firemen.

In beautiful Greenwood cemetery, near Brooklyn, N. Y., is a handsome and costly monument representing on a pedestal a large statue of a fireman in uniform, holding in one hand a speaking trumpet and in the other the statue of a little girl apparently five or six years of age.

At a great fire in New York this fireman lost his own life in his successful efforts to save the life of the child.

In commemoration of the noble deed the grateful father of the child erected the beautiful monument.

"Greater love than this hath no man, that he lay down his life for a friend," were words of Jesus.

But here was an instance where a man lay down his life for a little child, and that child a perfect stranger.

And these heroic deeds are happen-ing every day in the ordinary walks of life.

Of Interest to our Merchants

John Wanamaker pays over $1,000 a day for just advertising his Philadelphia store. He uses a page a day in five daily newspapers in that city. They are as follows: Press, $50,000; Ledger, $50,000; Times, $50,000; North American, $75,000; and Evening Tele-graph, $50,000. Up to a few months ago Mr. Wanamaker was using a page in the Record at the rate of $87,500 a year, which would have made an annual expenditure of $382,500. When he wanted to renew his advertising contract with the Record, the pub-lishers asked $25,000 more or a total of $112,500. Mr. Wanamaker refused to pay the amount, thinking that no one else would pay that sum for the page. The proposition was made to Litt Bros. who accepted the contract without a moment's hesitation, and they are now paying the enormous sum of $112,500 for the use of the page for one year.
